GMHBA Endorses Todd Strange for Mayor

The Greater Montgomery Home Builders Association announced today that the group endorses Todd Strange as Mayor of Montgomery. The endorsement includes a $5,000 donation to Strange's campaign.

"Todd Strange is the kind of leader Montgomery needs during these uncertain economic times," said Jimmy Rutland of Lowder New Homes, who serves as Chairman of the GMHBA Government Affairs Committee. "Todd's experience in business and his service with the county commission is unmatched among the other candidates. He's a proven leader and he really cares about Montgomery. His track record of success speaks for itself."

Strange accepted the endorsement and said he appreciated the association's backing.

"It means a lot when professional associations put their faith fully behind you," Strange said. "I'd like to thank the GMHBA for their support and donation to our campaign."

"Todd's done a great job at the county level and when he's elected, he will work hard every day to make this city even greater," Rutland said.

GMHBA is the only professional trade association representing the residential segment of the construction industry and is considered one of the most respected organizations in Alabama. GMHBA is one of 27 local associations comprising the Home Builders Association of Alabama, which has more than 12,000 members statewide.
